United States Mint Releases 2017 Native American $1 Coin Products on January 25

January 18, 2017

WASHINGTON – The United States Mint will begin accepting orders for product options containing 2017 Native American $1 Coins beginning on January 25 at noon Eastern Time (ET).

The 2017 coin honors Sequoyah of the Cherokee Nation, creator of the Cherokee language. The reverse (tails) design features a profiled likeness of Sequoyah writing "Sequoyah from Cherokee Nation" in syllabary along the border of the design. Inscriptions are "UNITED STATES OF AMERICA," "$1" and "Sequoyah" written in English in the field of the design.

The obverse (heads side) design retains the central figure of the "Sacagawea" design first produced in 2000 with the inscriptions "LIBERTY" and "IN GOD WE TRUST."

Product options and their prices are as follows:

PRODUCT CODE	PRODUCT OPTION	PRICE
17NA	25-Coin Roll – "P"	$32.95
17NB	25-Coin Roll – "D"	$32.95

About the United States Mint

The United States Mint (Mint) was created by Congress in 1792 and became part of the Department of the Treasury in 1873. It is the Nation's sole manufacturer of legal tender coinage and is responsible for producing circulating coinage for the Nation to conduct its trade and commerce. The Mint also produces numismatic products, including proof, uncirculated, and commemorative coins; Congressional Gold Medals; and silver, gold and platinum bullion coins. Its numismatic programs are self-sustaining and operate at no cost to taxpayers. The Mint is celebrating its 225th anniversary this year.

Note: To ensure that all members of the public have fair and equal access to United States Mint products, orders placed prior to the official on-sale date and time of January 25, 2017, noon ET will not be deemed accepted by the United States Mint and will not be honored.
